

Evansville Police Department Foundation 2011 Scholarship winners include:

Lauren Barnett, daughter of Michelle Barnett, has been accepted into the Occupational Therapy Program at University of Southern Indiana. She is on the USI Honor's List, is the Fundraising Chair of the Student Occupational Therapy Association and hopes to specialize in pediatrics.

Kelsey Gelzleichter, daughter of Paul Gelzleichter, is studying health administration at the University of Southern Indiana. She has been nominated to the National Society of Collegiate Scholars and helped with the first Policeman's Ball.

Cameron Whitler, son of Keith Whitler, is attending Indiana University, where he is studying pre-med. He is a member of the National Society of Collegiate Scholars, the IU Arts and Sciences dean's list and Phi Delta Theta Fraternity.

Andrew James Brickner, the stepson of Sgt. Darren Sroufe, is studying criminal justice at Ivy Tech, has actively participated in the Evansville Police Department Law Enforcement Explorers since its inception and hopes to one day be a police officer.

Lauren George, daughter of Rhonda Gassman, is studying journalism and public relations at Indiana University. She is the vice president of communication at her residence hall and is doing intern work at WFIU Harmonia in Bloomington, Ind.

Laura Molinet, daughter of David and Joyce Molinet, attended Reitz High School and plans on studying pre-veterinary medicine at Purdue in the fall. Laura has grown up with police dogs in her family; as part of her senior project she made and sold dog treats to purchase a bulletproof vest for a police dog.
